St Petersburg train bomber was sushi chef

A FORMER sushi chef from Kyrgyzstan has been named as the suicide bomber who killed 14 and injured 50 in the St Petersburg train massacre.

Russian citizen Akbarzhon Jalilov, 22 (above), who was born in Kyrgyzstan, has been named by security services as the suspected bomber who also planted a second device hidden in a fire extinguisher that failed to explode.

Kremlin officials said parts of the attacker's body had been found at the scene a day after a train was blown up between Sennaya Ploshchad and Sadovaya metro stations in Russia's second city.

CCTV images of the suspect show him in a red jacket, carrying a rucksack on his back through the Metro.

Police believe he has close links to radical Islamists.

Food price rise fastest in 3yrs

FOOD prices rose at their fastest pace for more than three years in March as retailers passed on surging costs from the Brexit-hit pound and global commodity hikes.

Food inflation hit 1% year-on-year last month – the sharpest rise since February 2014 and marking the second month in a row of rising prices.

It comes as the squeeze on household finances tightens, as the wider consumer prices index inflation jumped to 2.3% in February – its highest level since September 2013.

WE TOLD EU SO!

Gib leader warned PM May in January that Spain would use dirty tactics

ROCK DANGER: Picardo (above) and Mrs May

MPs were warned months ago that 'opportunistic' Spain would use Brexit as leverage in the dispute over Gibraltar.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

The Rock's chief minister Fabian Picardo raised the danger to a cross-party committee in January.

The warning raises fresh questions about why Prime Minister Theresa May failed to reiterate the UK's commitment to the territory in her historic letter triggering Article 50 last week.

The EU's initial response on Friday caused fury by stating that Spain would have a veto on any new arrangements over Gibraltar.

The row caught fire over the weekend when senior Tories made clear the government was willing to defend the Rock by force if necessary.

Mrs May tried to ease tensions by stressing that she favoured 'jaw jaw' above 'war war'.

Risk

But the fallout could hamper negotiations with Brussels.

In his evidence to the Brexit Committee in January, Mr Picardo said there was a 'risk that Spain will raise the Gibraltar question in its preliminary internal discussions with the other Member States as they seek to agree a common position for the EU/UK negotiations'.

'Indeed, the previous acting Spanish Foreign Minister has written to all the other EU capitals in order to put across his views on shared sovereignty over Gibraltar, as the price to pay for maintaining a relationship with the EU,' Mr Picardo said.

He added: 'Spain cannot be allowed to use her obsession with Gibraltar as a bargaining chip in the negotiations between the UK and the EU.

'It is important to be aware that this is an unnecessary and opportunistic challenge that the negotiating process may face.'

There are reports that the government chose not to include Gibraltar in Mrs May's letter as it was considered 'strategically' better for Spain to raise the issue first.

However, Downing Street has insisted the commitment to the Rock has never been in doubt.

The warning from Mr Picardo emerged as the Brexit Committee published a report criticising the PM's approach to talks with the EU – despite many of the MPs declaring they did not agree with its findings.

EIGHT more people, including a 15-year-old boy, have appeared in court charged with violent disorder following a suspected hate crime which left a teenage asylum seeker fighting for his life.

The 17-year-old Kurdish Iranian boy was chased and attacked while at a bus stop in Croydon, south London, on Friday night.

He was left with a fractured spine, fractured eye socket and bleed to the brain.

He is now recovering after being placed in an induced coma.

Liam Neylen, 19, Ellie Leite, 19, Kyran Evans, 23, all from Croydon, and James Neves, 22, of Beckenham, south-east London, were charged with violent disorder at Croydon Magistrates' Court.

Ben Harman, 20, from Croydon, was charged with violent disorder and dangerous driving.

A 15-year-old boy and a 17-year-old girl – both from the Croydon area – were charged with violent disorder.

A 17-year-old boy from the Croydon area was charged with violent disorder and wounding with intent.

All eight will stand trial on May 2.

SHOT DOGS: NOW FAMILY PLAN TO SUE POLICE

HAPPIER TIMES: Daniel with one of his dogs

A DOG breeder has denied allowing his five bulldogs to go on the rampage and bite two shoppers before two of them were shot dead by police in the street, front of up to 50 children.

Daniel Hennessy, 38, who has been charged with two counts of allowing dogs to be dangerously out of control, one count of affray and possession of cannabis, appeared at Bolton Magistrates' Court yesterday.

Now his family are to take action against the police for shooting the dogs.

Hennessy was arrested after five of his dogs allegedly ran amok in the town centre on Sunday, attacking two people outside a cafe near where up to 50 children had earlier taken part in a junior park run.

Missing

Two of the pets were shot dead by armed police, two were captured and one fled and is still missing.

His girlfriend Donna, who watched from the court's public gallery alongside two friends and his mother Jean, is set to sue the police over their decision to shoot dead the pets, called 'Kayos' and 'Taser'.

Prosecutor Nicola Yeadon told magistrates that police were told on Sunday afternoon that five pitbull-type dogs were allegedly out of control in the Queens Park area of the town.

There was no application for bail and Hennessy was remanded in custody to appear at Bolton Crown Court on May 2.

He shouted to his family as he was taken down.

Owner Daniel Hennessy, from Bolton, is in custody and said to be heartbroken at the deaths of his pets.

His third and fourth dogs, one of whom is called 'Gaiter', were captured but the fifth remains missing and police have urged the public to be vigilant.

But his family are furious about the decision to shoot the dogs and his girlfriend Donna said: "I'll be putting in a complaint".

Giving an insight into her son's state of mind his mother Jean, 68, said: "He's very upset about it all".

Dog owners can pursue the police for compensation if they believe it was wrong for their pets to be destroyed.

In 2016 a woman won almost £7,000 in damages from Merseyside Police when they killed her dog unfairly.

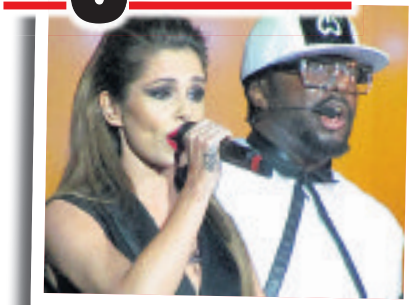
So... when Will.i see you again?



CHERYL AND 'BEST FRIEND' FALL-OUT

MUSIC star Will.I.Am has hinted he no longer speaks to his former best friend Cheryl.

The 42-year-old The Voice UK judge revealed that he didn't know when her baby was due and said he'd see it for the first time in a magazine.

Will became extremely close with Cheryl in 2008 after a collaboration and helped her build her career back up when she was fired from The X Factor USA 1 in 2013.

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

But cracks appeared when former Black Eyed Peas member Will was kept in the dark over her marriage to Jean-Bernard Fernandez -Versini.

Things still don't seem to be back on track either as Will said he probably won't see 33-year-old Cheryl's first child, with One Direction's Liam Payne, 23, anytime soon.

He said: "I'll see (the baby) in a magazine somewhere. I think when you're close to somebody, you're always close, but I think we're just…we're gravitating to new things.

"Of course we're still friends. I don't know where she hangs out – when's the baby due. "

Cheryl welcomed her first child on Saturday March 25 but has yet to reveal her son to the world.

Chaka, known as the Queen of Funk, said that after two failed marriages she only had time for a man who could "bring something big to the table".

The I Feel For You singer, who has sold more than 70 million records, revealed: "It would take a man of biblical proportions for me to marry again.

"I don't have time unless he can bring something big to the table, like a huge amount of money."

HOLLYWOOD actor Orlando Bloom is a huge fan of The Only Way Is Essex.

Former TOWIE star Sam Faiers bumped into the Pirates of the Caribbean star at a pre-Oscars bash in Los Angeles earlier this year.

The 40-year-old hunk (above) instantly recognised the Essex stunna, 26, from her days on the ITV Be reality series.

The source said: "Orlando told her he was a huge fan of The Only Way Is Essex and started grilling her on the show.

"It's fair to say Sam was stunned."

Sam was in Los Angeles filming scenes for the latest series of The Mummy Diaries, which will focus on family life across the pond.

Pink diamond fetches £57.2m

A 59.6 CARAT diamond known as the Pink Star has sold for £57.2million at a Sotheby's auction in Hong Kong, setting a world record for any diamond or jewel.

The oval mixed-cut diamond smashed the £48.2m pre-sale estimate set by Sotheby's when it went on the block.

The sale comes three years after the gem was sold at an even higher price at another Sotheby's auction in Geneva.

That deal later fell apart.

Sotheby's said the gem is the largest flawless fancy vivid pink diamond ever graded by the Gemological Institute of America.

It was sold for a hammer price of £50.6m, but that figure does not include fees and the buyer's premium which boosts the total price.

COUPLE KEPT SEX SLAVE PRISONER IN HOME FOR 6 YEARS

FILTHY: Victim's room in Craigavon

A COUPLE who raped and sexually abused a woman held prisoner in their home for six years have been jailed for a total of 18 years.

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

Keith and Caroline Baker assaulted their traumatised emaciated victim, who had no way of escaping them.

Neighbours in Craigavon, in Co Armagh, Northern Ireland, did not even know she was inside the home of the former Salvation Army workers.

She was so badly malnourished that most of her teeth had to be removed after she was rescued by police in 2012.

Judge Patrick Lynch said: "It is not easy to understand how these individuals have so lost their moral compass that they could subject an individual who clearly exhibited serious mental defects to mistreatment, in sexual terms depriving her of any dignity and even the most basic of living standards."

Violence

He added: "Mr Baker presented as a Svengali figure, exercising control on three women based on his dominance, willingness to resort to violence and total immorality."

Baker was also living with a third woman, who eventually alerted police.

Keith Baker, 61, and his wife Caroline, 54, pleaded guilty to sexual activity involving penetration and causing a person with a mental disorder to engage in sexual activity at Craigavon Crown Court.

Keith Baker was also charged with rape and indecent assault.

Caroline Baker was charged with aiding and abetting rape and other sexual offences including indecent assault.

He was sentenced to 15 years in prison and she was jailed for three years with 18 months' early release under licence.

Their victim was reported missing in England in 2004. She was taken to Northern Ireland by Mr Baker, the judge said.

The woman was kept in a filthy room at their home, with no heat, light bulb or carpet. The door handle had been removed on the inside, meaning she was unable to escape.

The bathroom floor was covered in human waste and her mattress was badly stained.

The perpetrators filmed themselves attacking their naked and helpless victim.

The judge said: "She lacked the capacity to make decisions and was regarded as a mentally disordered person and did not have capacity to consent to sex."

Isolated

Eight children also lived in the house, along with another lady.

The judge said the household was "highly unorthodox" and the victim was totally isolated from the rest of society.

Her words when she was released from captivity were: "Yes, freedom."

Sir Tom says his ‘fk’ was due to shock

SIR Tom Jones has put swearing during the live final of The Voice UK down to “shock”.

The Welsh singer and coach on the ITV show was heard saying “fk me” as it was announced that his act, Into The Ark, had made it through to the final two of the competition on Sunday night’s show.

As he launched the band’s first headline tour for later this year, Sir Tom (above), 76, said of the incident: “I was so shocked, and because I believe in them so much.

“It gives me a boost to know that the public believe like I do in these boys.”

The duo eventually finished second with Jennifer Hudson’s act Mo Adeniran taking the show’s crown and securing a coveted recording contract.

Into The Ark, made up of Dane Lloyd and Taylor Jones, will embark on a 16-date tour across the UK on May 12 then support Sir Tom on his tour later this year.

Lloyd, 25, said: “We’re so grateful to have the best mentor you could ever have.”

Migrants pulled from sinking boat

SIX Iranian migrants have been rescued from a sinking boat as they attempted to cross the English Channel.

French authorities received a distress call from the small fishing vessel travelling from Calais to Dover just after midnight on Tuesday.

Search operations were hampered by “thick fog” but the group was eventually located at 2.45am around one mile north-east of Calais.

The UK’s Maritime and Coastguard Agency said it had been assisting French authorities with the search operation.

The six migrants, who were suffering from mild hypothermia, received first aid before being handed over to Calais border police.

Authorities warned that such journeys are “extremely risky and dangerous”.

‘STRIPTEASE GROUP SEX’ MUM JAILED FOR STRING OF ROMPS WITH TEEN BOYS

HIGHLY SEXED: Amanda Tompkins sucked off lads

By JESS GALLEY

jess@sundaysport.co.uk

A SEX mad mum has been jailed for seven years after having GROUP SEX with six underage lads.

Amanda Tompkins admitted romping with three schoolboys at once as well as performing saucy stripteases for the teenagers and giving them blowjobs.

The 39-year-old married mother-of-three even told one of the lads, who were all aged between 13 and 15, she was pregnant with his baby and needed to have an abortion.

Tompkins, from Milton Keynes, Bucks, was described as a “dreadful mother” by Judge Francis Sheridan who told her: “Putting it bluntly, madam, you are sex mad.

Disgrace

“As simple as that – anything goes, doesn’t matter the age, doesn’t matter what stage of sobriety you were in.

“You had a sexual drive that knew no ends. Nothing was enough.

“You flirted with the boys in a predatory and highly sexualised way. Your smaller children would be present in the home while the antics were going on.

“I watched you in this case. I saw no tears in your eyes.

“You are a disgrace as a mother and I do not hesitate to say it.”

The court heard that Tompkins would invite the boys to drink alcohol and smoke cannabis in her home before engaging in sex acts.

And she would even have the schoolboys over while her youngest children were in the house.

Aylesbury Crown Court was told that Tompkins – who was described as “highly sexual” – groomed the schoolboys February and May last year fully aware that they were underage.

On two occasions the stay-at-home mum invited three boys into her bedroom and had full and oral sex with them.

It was also revealed that Tompkins attempted to sexually assault another and had sex with one alone.

Kim Preston, prosecuting, said: “The defendant liked her own home to be viewed as the party house.

“She would allow them to drink and cannabis was allowed to be smoked. She created a free and easy environment.

“The defendant became rather suggestive in the boys’ presence, overtly sexual in her words and behaviour.

Naked

“She did a striptease in her bedroom and pulled her underwear from her bottom.

“She became quickly quite predatory and highly sexualised in the way she was speaking and behaving.

“She went upstairs and returned downstairs completely naked.

“She asked the boys how old they were and they made quite clear that they were 14 or 15. Still standing naked, she started touching a boy, and another, and invited all three boys to come to her bedroom. She was engaged in sexual activity with all three simultaneously.”

Judge tells her: ‘Putting it bluntly, madam, you are sex mad’

Tompkins was found guilty of 10 counts of physical and sexual abuse with six boys at her home when they were aged between 13 and 15.

As well as jail time, she has to sign the Sex Offenders’ Register and has been placed under a sexual harm prevention order banning her from contacting underage boys or girls for life.

EATING CONTESTS CLAIM TWO LIVES

STUDENT KILLED BY CHARITY PANCAKE

A PRETTY brunette student died after choking to death during a pancake-eating contest at university.

Caitlin Nelson, 20, was one of 10 girls taking part in the competition to raise funds for Sacred Heart University when a piece went down the wrong way and clogged her airway.

Two nursing students saw she was in difficulty and tried to save Caitlin, before they were quickly joined by police and paramedics at the event in Connecticut.

She was taken to hospital in nearby Bridgeport in a critical but stable condition and then transferred to Columbia University Medical Center in New York, where she later died.

The social work student fell to the floor and started shaking uncontrollably after eating four or five pancakes at the fundraiser.

By GARY DORAN
gary@sundaysport.co.uk

Police officer Robert Kalamaras, 42, who was the first on the scene and tried to save her life, said: "We made several attempts to clear her airway. It's difficult, it's intense and it's tragic for the family, and of course for the entire Sacred Heart community.

"It's difficult to face the parent and tell them what happened."

This is the second tragedy to hit the family – Caitlin's cop dad James died trying to save people from the World Trade Center buildings in New York after they were struck by two hijacked planes on September 11, 2001.

Officer Kalamaras added: "It's a tragic event that started out as something fun.

MAN CHOKES TO DEATH IN DOUGHNUT CHALLENGE

A GREEDY bloke choked to death on a gigantic glazed DOUGHNUT during an eating challenge.

Travis Malouff, 42 (left), was taking part in an eating contest and was trying to scoff a 1lb doughnut in 80 seconds.

Participants in the challenge, called 'Tex-Ass Challenge', are allowed to drink liquids as well as dunk the doughnut if they wish.

Witnesses claim Mr Malouff, from Colorado, began chomping on the glazed sweet treat but quickly began choking.

One witness, Julia Edelstein, said: "It's too much food for one person, even at the size that he was. That's too much for someone to eat. He was trying to force it down."

Officials arrived at the Voodoo Doughnut shop in Denver at 1.30pm on Sunday afternoon but it was too late as Travis had tragically passed away.

His father, Curtis Malouff, described his son as an "energetic and open-minded person" and said he wasn't surprised his son had taken on the doughnut challenge.

Curtis said: "If a challenge was there, he'd probably take it. It's tragic and it's a loss of life that shouldn't be."

Hubby offers £44k reward over murder

THE widower of murdered honeymooner Michaela McAreavey has offered a £44,000 reward for help in catching her killer.

John McAreavey has returned to Mauritius, where Michaela (above) was strangled, to make a public appeal for help.

He said he felt betrayed by the justice authorities on the holiday island, accusing them of inaction in the investigation.

Mrs McAreavey, a 27-year-old teacher and the daughter of gaelic football manager Mickey Harte, was killed in her room in a luxury resort hotel in 2011.

Two former hotel workers were acquitted of the crime in 2012.

Mr McAreavey, who has since remarried, said: "Michaela deserves justice. We have felt let down time and time again and feel betrayed by a process that has failed us and Michaela."

The reward will be paid to anyone who provides information that leads to the successful prosecution of the killer or killers.

Prince Philip gives Kylie one...

(AN AWARD, THAT IS!)

RELATIONS: The Duke and Kylie

By LAURA ELSTON news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE Duke of Edinburgh has cemented Anglo-Aussie relations – by charming pop star Kylie Minogue at Windsor Castle.

Philip, 95, met the much-loved Australian entertainer at the Queen's Berkshire residence to present her with a special award honouring her dedication to the bond between Britain and Australia.

The royal patriarch and the Can't Get You Out Of My Head singer laughed and joked throughout the private audience in the castle's grand White Drawing Room.

Kylie and the Duke, chatted about her new album and about how much effort was going into making it.

Kylie unsurprisingly opted for a more demure look than her trademark gold hotpants and was dressed in a floor-length floral chiffon dress.

Philip, who is patron of the Britain-Australia Society, handed over the Britain-Australia Society Award for 2016, recognising Kylie's contribution to Anglo-Australian relations.

Kylie, who already has an OBE, said after her award was announced at a reception at Australia House on Monday evening: "I'm a proud Aussie but Britain has a very strong place in my heart, having lived and worked here for many years.

"The Society does a wonderful job to promote the rich cultural ties between the two countries and I am honoured to be recognised by them in this way."

Charle ATWELL

By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

SINGLE Charley Atwell revealed she's on the lookout for a new fella who can keep up with her in the bedroom – because she likes to orgasm TWICE A DAY.

The naughty brunette, from Romford, Essex, admitted sorting herself out on a regular basis by playing for hours with her vibrators.

But the 28-year-old added her plastic cocks are no match for the real thing – and the 34E beauty can't wait to get back in the saddle!

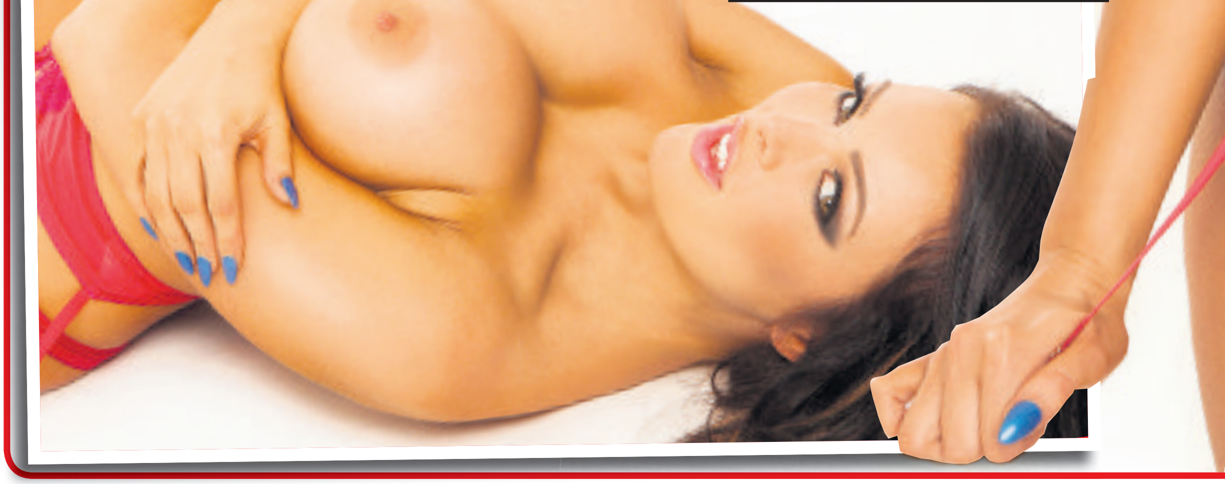
Climax

She said: "I'm enjoying being single at the moment. I'll start looking for a man in a few months, and I can always satisfy myself in the meantime.

"I always climax when I use a vibrator, I can't help myself. As soon as I'm through the front door I'm upstairs, the knickers are off and the vibe comes out.

"I'm not worried, but sometimes I do wonder if twice a day might be excessive.

"I can literally spend hours playing with my sex toys."



NEWCASTLE STAR IN COURT OVER 'BAR BRAWL'

CHARGED: Winger Rolando Aarons

By TOM WHITE news@sundaysport.co.uk

A NEWCASTLE United footie ace has appeared in court charged with violent disorder after an alleged early-hours brawl in a bar.

Rolando Aarons, a 21-year-old winger for the Championship club, is said to have been involved in a disturbance at Livello nightclub in Newcastle city centre in October.

Bottles

Magistrates in the city heard the injured party, Wesley Erskine, had been on a night out with his amateur football team when the incident is said to have taken place in the VIP section of the bar.

Keith Laidlaw, prosecuting, said: "Mr Erskine suffered injuries when bottles were smashed and bottles where thrown around by a number of the defendants in this case."

Jamar Collins, 21, from Bristol, Jean Coly, 23, from Liverpool, and Joan Jacob, 45, from Newcastle, also appeared in court.

All three are charged with violent disorder and Coly an additional charge of wounding with intent.

Geoffrey Forrester, defending, said that the allegations would be "seriously contested".

The case was sent to Newcastle Crown Court on May 3 and they were all granted unconditional bail.

Aarons, who was born in Jamaica, joined the North East club in 2012.

Union calls off Tube strike

A PLANNED strike by drivers on London's Night Tube on Saturday has been called off.

Union members on the service, which started last August, were due to walk out in protest at being "blocked" from applying for full-time jobs on the Tube as well as not qualifying for overtime pay.

Aslef's Finn Brennan said the union had received "additional clarification" from London Underground.

London Mayor Sadiq Khan said: "I'm pleased that once again we have managed to avoid unnecessary strike disruption for Londoners."

Bros boost for 007 Dan

PIERCE Brosnan has backed Daniel Craig to play James Bond into his 50s, but said there's an age where he must say "enough's enough".

The former 007 star said Craig was "brilliant" in the role and urged him to continue starring as the famous spy amid doubts over his future with the film franchise.

Brosnan was 49 when he last played Bond in 2002 film Die Another Day, the same age as Craig is now.

Asked if there was an age limit to play Bond, Brosnan (above), 63, said: "There's a definite point where you have to say enough's enough for sure. I'm not going to put a number on it."

But Casino Royale star Craig said after 2015 film Spectre he'd rather "slash my wrists" than reprise the role.

TOWIE BABE HAS HOTS FOR EX ON THE BEACH BABE...

Chloe: I wanna neck Bec!

By JESS GALLEY
jess@sundaysport.co.uk

TOWIE* star Chloe Sims has revealed she has a steamy LESBIAN CRUSH on a fellow reality babe.

The hot 34-year-old admits she fancies Geordie glamour girl Becca Edwards who shot to fame on the recent series of MTV's Ex On The Beach.

Chloe said: "I must admit Becca Edwards is really hot.

"She's my new girl crush!"

Praises

The Newbury Park-born babe – a cousin of former TOWIE co-stars Joey and Frankie Essex – revealed that Becca is her girl-on-girl fantasy in her magazine column this week after singing the praises of the model's ex-boyfriend, Geordie Shore's Aaron Chalmers.

She said: "I'm loving Ex On The Beach!

"I really like Aaron Chalmers – he's sweet, very good-looking and comes across as a really nice lad.

"I know he comes out with a few rude comments, but I've got used to them now."

Ralf's right Royle crush on Caroline

ACTOR Ralf Little said he had a HUGE crush on Caroline Aherne when they began filming The Royle Family.

Ralf (above), 37, who played teenager Antony, was just 18 when he landed the role on sitcom favourite and he had his eye on Caroline, who sadly passed away in July last year age 52.

He said: "She was gorgeous and I was 18 so she'd take the piss out of me relentlessly. We'd be ready to go for a take and in front of everyone she'd say 'So, Ralfy, are you still a virgin?'

"She was always the sharpest person in the room and she could be cutting but always in a funny rather than a cruel way."

Despite his affection for the show, Ralf said he doesn't think it would be possible to revive without Caroline at the helm and added: "With Caroline gone I can't see a way it would work. But who knows? If (co-writer) Craig Cash said 'Look, we're getting together for a one-off' then I'd do it in a heartbeat."

Poor broadband frustrates 12m

MORE than 12 million households have been left frustrated by poor broadband services, according to research from Which?

The consumer group has launched a new campaign called "fix bad broadband" and has made a free speed checker tool available on its website.

A survey of more than 2,000 households from Which? found 46 per cent said they were frustrated by broadband problems. Based on the UK population, this equates to around 12.5 million households.

Which? boss Alex Neill, said: "There is nothing more annoying than your internet cutting out when you're streaming your favourite programme, or when you've spent ages filling your online shopping basket but your connection is too slow to get you to the checkout."

How can he be playing again after he raped me?

BACK ON THE PITCH: David Goodwillie

– VICTIM'S FURY

By WENDY THOMAS
news@sundaysport.co.uk

FOOTBALL rape victim Denise Clair says she's "appalled" that the player who raped her has resumed his playing career.

Former Scotland striker David Goodwillie made his debut for Scottish League Two side Clyde on Saturday – just weeks after vowing to quit football to clear his name.

Denise, 30, won a £100,000 settlement after an historic civil case ruled she had been raped by Goodwillie and former Dundee United midfielder David Robertson during a night out in January 2011.

The Crown Office in Scotland had refused to prosecute the pair.

Denise says she's disgusted at the message the return of Goodwillie, 28, sends out to young football fans.

Animal

"I'm appalled a club will allow a rapist and liar to represent them," she said.

"What message will this send to impressionable young fans?

"They are saying you can behave like an animal and still be a sporting hero."

Goodwillie and Robertson, 30, were both branded rapists by a judge following the civil hearing earlier this year.

Lord Armstrong ruled, on the balance of probabilities, that both men took advantage of Denise while she was too drunk to consent.

The former team-mates are appealing the ruling.

Denise, a former Scottish Prison Service careers adviser, has demanded the Scottish Football Association launch an investigation into whether Goodwillie's signing by Clyde has brought the game into disrepute.

She said: "The SFA has a role to play in ensuring standards are upheld.

"I would like to see whether they believe Goodwillie is fit to be seen as a professional footballer with all the influence that has on the young people who watch the game?

"Isn't it time they sent out a very clear message?"

And Sandy Brindley, of Rape Crisis Scotland, said: "Footballers are role models and this signing sends out completely the wrong message.

"Goodwillie has been found to be both a rapist and a liar by one Scotland's most senior judges and he should not be allowed on the professional playing field.

"It's a disgrace Denise Clair is having to continue suffering further anguish brought about by this signing."

Denise was driven to the brink of suicide when criminal prosecutors dropped their rape charge against Goodwillie in 2011.

After years of online abuse from football fans, Denise took civil action against the men and won £100,000 in damages.

Silence

Goodwillie subsequently announced he was leaving English League Two club Plymouth Argyle by "mutual consent".

Cowdenbeath midfielder Robertson, 30, said he was "retiring" from the game soon after the ruling. He has since been working as a boiler salesman.

In January, it emerged that the men tried to buy Denise's silence with three separate offers of money.

DOCTOR WHO BABE IS THE LATEST IN

PUCKER UP GIRLS!

TAYLOR SCHILLING (ORANGE IS THE NEW BLACK)

RACHEL SHELLEY (T L WORD)

DOCTOR Who's latest companion Pearl Mackie has confirmed her character will be a LESBIAN.

By BECCA STUBBS news@sundaysport.co.uk

The rumour mill has gone into overdrive over who will be the next Time Lord after Peter Capaldi goes but it's the Doctor's new sidekick who will really get tongues wagging.

Actress Pearl, 29, landed the role as Bill in the BBC sci-fi show and she revealed her character will be gay.

She said: "Yeah, Bill's gay and I think it shouldn't be a big deal in the 21st Century really. People are gay, people are black, there are also aliens in the world you know, so watch out for them."

Pearl's character was announced a year ago, during half-time of the FA Cup semi-final, but it's only now that her sexuality has been revealed.

However, Pearl won't be the first on-screen lesbian and we doubt the Beeb will have her in steamy scenes like these.

Orange Is The New Black is set in a prison which is home to tons of hot girls who often get down and dirty with each other to pass the time. Lead actress Taylor Schilling, 32, has enjoyed onscreen rugmunching lots of times during the four seasons of the Netflix comedy drama.

That said, there aren't many shows which can top The L Word for the number of saucy lesbian sex scenes.

And British soaps have got in on the act with the likes of Corries' Brooke Vincent and Sophie Jenna snogging.

But there's loads more, look...

Revenge porn pics uploader avoids prison

A REVENGE porn offender who posted a series of “vile” and “lewd” comments on an X-rated website next to pictures of women he knew has avoided jail.

Unemployed Oliver Whiting, 37 (above), took innocent pictures from two victims’ social media accounts and put them on a pornographic site for trolls to leave messages and images.

Next to a picture of one woman he knew, former restaurant manager Whiting described her as a “cock-tease”, a “slag” and a “whore”.

The photograph he uploaded featured the woman’s young child, Hastings Magistrates’ Court in East Sussex was told.

Prosecutor Elizabeth Green said the victim was left “distressed” at being unable to get the US-based website to remove the image, where it still remains.

Whiting, of Eastbourne, pleaded guilty to 11 offences of making offensive postings, and received a six-month jail term, suspended for two years.

He must also do 200 hours of unpaid work.

200,000 kids live with alcoholics

MORE than 200,000 children in England live with adults who are dependent on BOOZE, new figures suggest.

Public Health England and the Department of Health commissioned the University of Sheffield to estimate the number of kids living with adults who are seriously dependent on alcohol.

The data also suggests there are 600,000 dependent drinkers who would benefit from treatment, yet only around 100,000 are currently receiving help.

Around 1.5 million adults in England and Wales are thought to have some form of alcohol dependence, and there are 2.5 million children living with an adult drinking at what is considered “risky” levels.

Fake boobs sex pest groper is handed 18mths

A PROLIFIC sex pest who groped women and wore fake breasts in public has been jailed.

Daniel Lennon, 34 (above), was captured on camera "lunging his groin" into a woman's backside and rubbing up against her as she stacked shelves in a Boots store.

He told another female staff member he would "bend her over backwards", Bristol Crown Court heard.

Lennon pleaded guilty to sexual assault and being in breach of a Sexual Harm Prevention Order.

He has a long record for sexually pestering women and on one occasion donned a pair of improvised breasts while in public.

The latest offence in Boots breached a 12-month community order he was handed in September 2015.

He walked into the chain's branch in Broadmead, Bristol, and was captured on camera in August last year.

Lennon, of Hotwells, Bristol, was caged for 18 months and ordered to register as a sex offender for seven years.

We'll soon start drinking the SEA!

SCIENTISTS have created a graphene-based sieve capable of making seawater drinkable.

The development by UK-based researchers brings closer the prospect of providing clean water to millions of people who struggle to get it.

The team at the University of Manchester, where colleagues won a Nobel Prize in 2010 for first extracting graphene, have managed to precisely control the sizes of pores in a graphene oxide sieve.

The discovery allows them to filter out salts from water to make it safe to drink.

Climate change is reducing cities' water supplies and the United Nations has predicted that around 1.2 billion people, or 14 per cent of the world's population, will struggle to source clean water by 2025.

RHIAN SUGDEN EXCLUSIVE

My kinky sex in a public car park!

By BECCA STUBBS

becca@sundaysport.co.uk

GLAMOUR girl Rhian Sugden once SHAGGED a bloke in a car park – and she loved every second.

The busty Bury-born beauty loves public sex and revealed her kinky sex session behind a bin in the car park took place in broad daylight.

Rhian, 30, also can't wait for summer because she and her mates will jet off on a topless beach break.

All-natural 32E Rhian loves walking around naked and enjoys rubbing suncream into her mates' boobs and bums.

She said: "The naughtiest thing I've ever done is to have sex in a car park in broad daylight.

"I was wearing a skirt and the guy was behind me while I was holding on to a bin.

Naked

"I often walk round naked. I love letting it all hang out.

"As soon as it's hot, my clothes come off. I'm always topless in the garden. When I'm abroad I'll find a nudist beach and go naked.

"When I go to Ibiza for a few weeks with the girls we just get topless on the beach during the day and have a few drinks and a good flirt at night.

"Mind you, there are a lot of boobs and bums to rub the suncream into, but it's more fun going on holiday with the girls. And my boobs like a good squeeze now and again too!"

Blonde bombshell Rhian made headlines in 2010 after she admitted texting married TV presenter Vernon Kay, 42.

As a result of Rhian's shock confession, Vernon's marriage to Strictly Come Dancing host Tess Daly, 47, suffered a bump but the pair remained together.

Rhian appeared on Celebrity Big Brother in 2012 and Channel 5 bosses reportedly want to lure the topless stunna back to the infamous house for the next series.

TORTURE GANG POURED BOILING WATER OVER COUPLE

NABBED: Daniel Wallace was caught on flight from Dubai

By SAM RUSSELL news@sundaysport.co.uk

TWO “barbaric” burglars who tied up an OAP couple and poured boiling water over their heads have each been handed three life sentences.

Kacey Adams, 34, and 33-year-old Daniel Wallace smashed their way into the bungalow of John Buswell, 66, as he watched TV and his wife Janis, 64, knitted clothes for her expected great-grandchild.

The intruders used cable ties to restrain the couple and subjected them to almost two hours of torture to demand the codes to their safes, said prosecutor Tracy Ayling QC.

Ruthless

Judge Charles Gratwicke, sentencing at Chelmsford Crown Court, described both men as “highly dangerous, ruthless professional criminals prepared to use serious violence” to further their aims.

Both men admitted aggravated burglary and causing grievous bodily harm with intent at an earlier hearing at Maidstone Crown Court.

The men were also sentenced for a tit-for-tat drive-by shooting after they were found guilty of conspiracy to murder following an earlier trial at Chelmsford Crown Court.

Adams, formerly of Ilford, London, and Wallace, of no fixed abode, were both sentenced to life in prison, and must serve 12-and-a-half years before being considered for release.

Each was given three life sentences, with a minimum jail term of 12-and-a-half years for conspiracy to murder, and seven-and-a-half years for both aggravated burglary and causing grievous bodily harm with intent.

All sentences will be served concurrently.

The court heard the two defendants had poured two kettles of boiling water over Mrs Buswell and threatened to sever her fingers and gouge one of her eyes out, and poured one kettle of boiling water over Mr Buswell, punched him in the face and threatened to cut his ears off.

NICKED: Kacey Adams had £18k worth of luxury goods in his luggage

Jailed for life after dramatic arrest on flight from Dubai

They also threatened the couple with a knife and a hot iron.

Spree

Judge Gratwicke said Adams and Wallace had used “gratuitous violence for no reason at all”.

Adams and Wallace, together with a third man who has never been caught, made off with around £50,000 on April 26, last year.

The two defendants jetted to Dubai on a spending spree after the raid in Halstead near Sevenoaks, Kent.

The judge said: “You left, having ruined the lives of those two pensioners.”

They were arrested on a return flight in May 2016, and their luggage was found to contain more than £18,000 of luxury goods.

Mrs Buswell said: “What these criminals did to me was barbaric.”

Geordies Shore down the vodka

MORE than 1,300 bottles of BOOZE go into making just one series of Geordie Shore.

The rowdy MTV reality show is best known for the binge-drinking and bonking of its Geordie cast members.

And star Chloe Ferry, 21, has now revealed exactly how much alcohol it takes to keep the house well-oiled over the six-week filming period.

She said: “We drink anything that’s handed to us. The girls love a glass of wine. I get told to stop drinking by producers”

Tattooed star Aaron Chalmers confirmed the excesses, saying: “Before we leave the house on a normal night we’ll get through a bottle of vodka. When we get to the club we’ll have five more.

“We get through hundreds of bottles of vodka alone every series.”

...the porn star who snogged Farage

OLD AND NEW: Farage has split with wife and is said to be seeing politician Laure (top)

OPLESS

THESE are the porn star boobs naughty Nigel Farage reportedly fondled in a mile-high encounter.

Porn babe Valerie Fox, 30, claimed ex-UKIP leader Nigel smothered her in kisses and the pair were even prepared to join The Mile High Club together.

Hardcore actress Valerie met Nigel during a Virgin Atlantic flight from Atlanta to London where the pair were both enjoying first class luxury.

Star of MILF Affairs, Valerie, claims they snogged for about 10 minutes and that their "hands were everywhere".

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

Explaining their fumble at 30,000ft Valerie allegedly told her pal: "He had absolutely no qualms about anyone else seeing us together. Our hands were everywhere.

"The last hour or 90 minutes sat at the bar we were just snogging and feeling each other up. It was deserted at that time with everyone asleep, but he didn't care who saw.

Knickers

"Nigel may be best known for getting the UK out of Europe but he seemed much keener on getting into my knickers."

The 32DD topless – and often bottomless – stunna claimed they decided against shagging in the plane's loos because they were worried about being caught out by the cabin crew. Instead, when they landed at Heathrow just after 6am on March 22, Nigel reportedly offered Valerie a lift home where they shared another bout of passionate snogging.

Valerie added: "Nigel was only in my flat 10 minutes. He carried my bags up for me and I showed him around.

"Then he began touching me up and I joined in. There was a lot of kissing and groping. He squeezed my boobs hard."

Nigel, who recently split from his wife and is said to be seeing French politician Laure Ferrari, admitted to meeting Valerie but said: "It's a lot of nonsense.

"Yes I met her, and we chatted on a plane but when things started to get heated, I said 'Enough is enough'."

FAMOUS LAST WORDS

WITH Arizona planning to bump off eight Death Row inmates in 11 days to use up their lethal injection juice before it reaches its best-before date, we look back at some famous last words uttered by some truly evil monsters before they were sent to meet their Maker…

THOMAS Grasso was executed in Oklahoma on March 20, 1995, for a double murder. His final words were him complaining he didn't get the last meal he asked for: "I did not get my Spaghetti-Os, I got spaghetti. I want the Press to know this."

ALREADY in prison in Oklahoma for life for killing a man while hitchhiking in 1958, James French was afraid to commit suicide.

So he murdered his cellmate in order to get the state to do it for him – which they did on August 10, 1966. His last words were: "How's this for a headline? French Fries."

'Let's do it'

GARY Gilmore gained international notoriety for demanding execution by firing squad for the murder of a petrol station attendant and hotel manager in Utah.

He left us aged 37 in January 1977 with the words: "Let's do it."

JAMES Jackson was executed in Texas on February 7, 2007, for the 1997 murders of his wife and two stepdaughters at their Houston home.

His upbeat final words were: "I'm ready to roll. Time to get this party started!"

GEORGE Appel's final words before being executed in the electric chair in New York in 1928 for murdering a police officer were: "Well, gentlemen, you are about to see a baked Appel."

JIMMY L. Glass was executed on June 12, 1987, for his involvement in the 1982 shooting of Newton and Erline Brown during a burglary. His last words were: "I'd rather be fishing."

JOHNNY Frank Garrett Snr was found guilty of raping and killing a 76-year-old nun but severe doubts over his guilt were raised in the years after his execution in 1992.

His last words: "I'd like to thank my family for loving me. The rest of the world can kiss my ass."

Caine: Don't mess with me

LEGENDARY British actor Michael Caine warned off thieves as he claimed no-one should ever mess with him.

Despite being 84 years old, the actor (below) is set to star in two more big-screen heist movies.

Although he's never been robbed, Caine says his film roles could make him think differently about his characters if he had been the victim of a theft.

When asked if he'd been robbed, he replied: "No. Anyone who robbed me would feel different. They'd be lucky to feel at all.

"You don't mess with me. I come from Bermondsey."

The The Italian Job star is in Hatton Garden, a film about the infamous heist in London in 2015.

He said he hopes people keep committing robberies as it keep him in a job, and added: "I like it."

Kaitlyn LAKEN

By JESS GALLEY

jess@sundaysport.co.uk

NORTHERN beauty Kaitlyn Laken loves having her NIPPLES played with between the sheets.

Kaitlyn, 25, has both nips pierced and says the studs make them extra sensitive – so she can't get enough of them being licked and rubbed.

The 34FF scorcher, who's from Manchester, whipped out her impressive norks to show off her incredible curves in sexy sussies and stockings.

Rubbing

She said: "I had both of my nipples pierced a few years back and everyone warned me that I might lose the sensitivity.

"But they ended up even more sensitive than ever – even my shirt rubbing against them gets me all turned on, so when a guy plays with them it drives me wild!

"I used to think it was daft when girls said they could come just from having their boobs played with, but to be honest I think I probably could now. It just feels so good!"

Why does an Essex girl wear knickers? To keep her ankles warm!

COCK SHOCK: Reeves let it hang out

DJ Scott probed over 'sexist' gags

By JESS GALLEY jess@sundaysport.co.uk

RADIO 1 presenter Scott Mills is being investigated by Ofcom over a string of jokes about Essex girls.

The DJ is at the centre of a sexism probe after two listeners complained to the regulator over gags which implied that Essex girls were stupid or promiscuous.

Scott, 43, and his co-star Chris Stark spent 24 hours on air for their 'LOLathon' as part of Comic Relief and read out jokes sent in by listeners.

They also invited celebrity guests onto the show, including TOWIE star Bobby Norris who read out some of the offensive jokes about his fellow Essex natives.

Some of the jokes in question include: "What's the first thing an Essex girl does in the morning? Goes home."

"Why does an Essex girl wear knickers? To keep her ankles warm."

"What does an Essex girl say after her doctor tells her she is pregnant? Is it mine?"

Veteran comic Vic Reeves was also slammed for flashing a fake cock during Comic Relief.

The 58-year-old let the prosthetic penis dangle out of his shorts during a pre-watershed sketch alongside partner Bob Mortimer and Susanna Reid.

An Ofcom spokesperson said: "We will assess all complaints before deciding whether or not to investigate."

Corden brings his Late Show to UK

TUBBY telly host James Corden is set to bring his hit US chat show to the UK in June to film three special episodes.

Corden, 38, will record The Late Late Show in Westminster's Central Hall and give his show's musical and comedy segments a British twist.

It will be the first international trip for the show, which will air on CBS in the US and on Sky 1 and Now TV in the UK.

The Carpool Karaoke star, who plans to share highlights from his homeland during the episodes, said: "To bring The Late Late Show to the UK is a dream come true for me.

"I'm incredibly proud of the show and we're going to do our best to make this week in London memorable."

Jess: Romp with Calum was SO awkward!

BEST PRACTICE: Jess romped onscreen with Calum in new movie

REAL LIFE LOVE: Jess with Denny

BEAUTY Jess Impiazzi had an awkward on-screen SHAG with playboy Calum Best.

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

The pair filmed a raunchy sex scene for their new movie Dangerous Game and Jess, 27, confessed the bonking was pretty difficult to film.

Ex On The Beach babe Jess said of her X-rated scene with 36-year-old Celebrity Big Brother hunk Calum: I'm SO awkward when it comes to sex. I turn into a teenager again – it's pathetic.

Romp

"Luckily, the sex scenes are easy, as we did them quite artisticly rather than a full-on romp.

"And the crew make it so much easier. Filming a sex scene is really not sexy!"

Jess, who's engaged to Sale Sharks rugby ace Denny Solomona, went on: "I went to the Italia Conti Academy of Theatre Arts, and I've always wanted to act

"I met with the directors and producers, had a little audition by reading out some of the script and got the part."

Dangerous Game is set to be released in June and also features appearances from Darren Day, TOWIE's Ricky Rayment and Alex Reid.

It focuses on a footballer, played by Calum, who gets involved in match-fixing.

Although football is the main focus of the plotline, it's Jess' steamy shagging scenes which fans will be most looking forward to.

Calum's on-screen romance is almost as hot as his off-screen girlfriend – the son of footie legend George Best has nabbed himself stunning Playboy model Lindsay Pelas.

Polanski has bid to end sex case rejected

AN AMERICAN judge has rejected Roman Polanski's bid to end his long-running under-age sex abuse case without the fugitive director appearing in court or being sentenced to more prison time.

Superior Court Judge Scott M Gordon refused to address how Polanski would be sentenced if he returned to the US after 40 years abroad.

He noted that other courts, including a California appellate court, have ruled that the Oscar winner is a fugitive and must return to Los Angeles for sentencing.

He said: "There is no sufficient or compelling basis for reconsideration of these issues."

Polanski was charged with six offences in 1977 after he was accused of plying a 13-year-old girl with champagne and part of a sedative pill, then raping her at actor Jack Nicholson's house.

Polanski, 83, pleaded guilty to unlawful sex with a minor, but fled Los Angeles in 1978.

His travel has since been confined to France, Switzerland and Poland.

BEES KILL PITBULL

A SWARM of thousands of bees killed a dog, injured their beekeeper and prompted a warning to stay indoors in a California neighbourhood, fire officials have confirmed.

The attack happened in Ceres when the beekeeper was trying to harvest honey from a beehive and around 4,000 bees attacked him.

Ceres fire chief Rick Scola said the beekeeper was stung many times – even though he was wearing protective clothing. He was treated in hospital and released.

The bees then went to another house, where they attacked two dogs. A pit bull did not survive the incident.

Cops said the beehive was unsafe to move and that the bees were euthanised to protect members of the public.

About 45 houses in the neighbourhood were placed on a "shelter-in-place" order for five hours.

Linsey Dawn McKenzie

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

I WILL be keeping a close eye on the story about the dogs which were shot dead by police in Bolton at the weekend after going on a 'rampage' through the town centre.

The newspapers said they bit two people, which must have been terrifying, and they really shouldn't have been off the lead if they weren't properly trained or were unsafe.

But to shoot them dead in the middle of a busy high street seems a bit barbaric. If they did pose a serious threat to people and were acting uncontrollably, then I totally understand that the police need to keep people safe first and foremost, but it seems so brutal to kill them in full view of the public.

Why couldn't they have used tranquiliser guns and sedated the dogs before destroying them away from the public?

The photographs of them lying motionless in the street were heartbreaking to see. At the end of the day, those animals were somebody's beloved pets.

OVER the weekend I caught up on Rio Ferdinand's documentary about trying to be both mum and dad to his kids after his wife Rebecca died from cancer in 2015.

If you haven't seen it yet, then I can't recommend it highly enough – just make sure you have some tissues handy!

He has undoubtedly won over the hearts of the entire nation after opening up so publicly and he has shown a whole other side to him that people probably haven't seen.

Choosing to share his grief with the country is so brave and it shows how important it is for people to seek help and talk about how they're feeling.

Watching Rio meeting fathers and husbands who have lost wives or children was so moving – but it also made me realise I don't think I have grieved properly for my mum yet.

It will be three years next month since she passed away from cancer, but I still haven't come to terms with it fully.

I can't imagine what it must be like for Rio's three children not to have their mum around. But after watching that programme, it's easy to see that he is an incredible father and he should be so proud of himself.

The Price is right!

HUGE respect to Katie Price for the petition she's lodged to make online abuse a criminal offence.

I couldn't believe my eyes when I read some of the vile comments these cowards made about Harvey.

I mean, what type of person goes out of their way to create these nasty memes and pictures of a child?!

I am 100 per cent behind Katie on this one, there needs to be some form of punishment for these trolls who think they can hide behind a computer screen and dish out disgusting abuse to people.

As the mother of an autistic child, I really respect what she is doing. If someone did that to my son Luca, I don't know that I would be as calm and collected about it as she has.

Despicable

And if the petition is successful, then it will positively impact so many people, not just her own family.

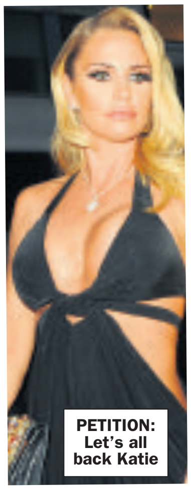
At the end of the day, say what you want about Katie because she's got a thick skin and she chose to live her life in the spotlight. But to pick on an innocent, disabled child – that is absolutely despicable if you ask me.

I know you're probably all reading this thinking I usually slag Katie off in my column, but that's not the case.

It is my job to have an opinion and my opinion can't always be in line with hers.

But setting up this amazing petition, I totally side with her.

So if you haven't signed the petition yet, then make sure you do by visiting https://petition.parliament.uk/petitions/190627.



PETITION: Let's all back Katie

IT'S been just two weeks since the Westminster terror attack and now there's been an explosion on the metro in St Petersburg. My heart goes out to everyone affected by the tragedy, which killed at least 14 people and injured many more. It is devastating to see so many innocent people being killed or hurt in mindless acts of violence like this.

REMEMBER I told you all that I was doing a brand new shoot last week... well, I can finally reveal the first photo from it! It felt great to be back in the studio again and I can't wait for you to see the complete set of photos when they're printed in the Midweek Sport! So watch this space!

Until then though, you can see me in action on Studio 66 TV – and you've got two chances to spend the night with me this week! Tune in tonight from 10pm on Sky channel 912 and from midnight on Freeview channel 185, or you can see me at the same time on Sunday night too!

UNDIE SIEGE!

Boyfriend fury as he finds lover working in a massage parlour

LOST IT: Barbu

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A JEALOUS man laid siege to a massage parlour after he discovered his girlfriend in a room with a punter.

Cristian Barbu, 26, went on a violent rampage at the rubdown shop when he was tipped off his girlfriend was secretly working there.

The unwitting punter who had 'booked' Barbu's lover was subjected to a 45-minute, stop-start beating.

The man had locked himself in a room at Passions, in Manchester, but "highly emotional" Barbu kicked the door down and set upon him, a crown court sentencing heard.

Nude

By that stage Barbu had already attacked his girlfriend, who ran from the room nude after realising he was there.

She was kicked and chased around the parlour before being dragged across the corridor by her hair.

On first entering the premises demanding to see his girlfriend Barbu ripped out the landline, confiscated the receptionist's phone, and armed himself with a knife from the kitchen.

Over the next hour he terrorised staff, his girlfriend and her client, stripping down to his vest and charging to and fro with the knife.

Barbu, of Cheetham Hill, has now been jailed for 32 months after admitting ABH, common assault, possessing a bladed article and criminal damage in the incident on the night of May 3 last year. He faces automatic deportation to Romania, where he has previous convictions for robbery and escape.

Prosecutor Craig McGregor told that in between hitting and kicking the man who had been in the room with his girlfriend, who was known to customers as 'Magdalena', Barbu paused to smoke cigarettes.

The siege finally ended when the lady owner pulled back Barbu's thumb, causing him to drop the knife, before everyone pinned him down.

Mr McGregor told the court Barbu had been led to believe his girlfriend was working at a shisha cafe.

Khadim Al'Hassan, defending Barbu, said that when he was told by a friend that she was not working in a cafe the ground upon which he was walking was suddenly swept away and he lost control.

Teacher sacked for sex toy txt

A TEACHER who asked a schoolgirl if she wanted a sex toy during a series of explicit messages to pupils on Snapchat has been kicked out of the profession.

John Flatley, 30, offered to take the teen shopping at Ann Summers and invited her to come to his house after the Year 11 summer prom at Tolworth Girls' School in Surbiton, Surrey, where he worked before moving to Gordon's School in Woking in 2015.

Flatley also messaged another pupil and asked her what she did in bed and if she had a "cheeky side" before criticising her for not getting him "excited".

He was suspended from his job in September 2015 after a pupil reported his messages.

Flatley was banned from teaching after a National College for Teaching and Leadership panel ruled his behaviour – which included asking a pupil if she'd like a dildo or a vibrator – was sexually motivated and amounted to unacceptable professional conduct.

BLONDE TEACHER'S 'SEX WITH BOY, 13, AT HER HOME'

SEX RAP: Schweitzer allegedly bonked lad

By COLIN HURST

news@sundaysport.co.uk

A MARRIED teacher has been charged with sexually assaulting a 13-year-old pupil.

Amanda Schweitzer, 37, is said to have had sex with him after taking him to her three-bedroom home.

She was already under investigation over allegations she sent nude selfies to three male students, one aged 13 and two aged 14.

The blonde has been married only 17 months after getting hitched in October 2015 to Jonah Schweitzer.

A police file seen by local news sources say she drove the boy – referred to by police only as 'CA' – to her house in Joplin, Missouri, where the alleged attack took place

The document says that: "Schweitzer led CA into a bedroom inside the residence and removed her and all of CA's clothing.

"Schweitzer and CA then had sexual intercourse in the bedroom.

"Schweitzer was 37 years old and CA was 13 years old at the time of the sexual intercourse."

It is not known if the boy is one of the three teens in the "naked-photos" probe.

Schweitzer was charged on Friday with first degree rape and put on "admin leave" as a reading teacher at North Middle School.

Banned

She has worked for the school district since August 2010.

Schweitzer, who has two children, has been banned from having contact with the boy or his family.

She faces a 10-year prison term if found guilty of the charge.

Benedict to star in new Beeb drama

TRAINSPOTTING star Kelly Macdonald will star alongside Benedict Cumberbatch in the upcoming BBC One adaptation of Ian McEwan's award-winning novel The Child In Time.

The Scottish actress will also be joined in the one-off 90-minute programme by The History Boys star Stephen Campbell Moore and Luther actress Saskia Reeves.

A first-look picture released shows Cumberbatch (above), who will play children's author Stephen Lewis, walking through a forest.

The book, which won McEwan the prestigious Whitbread Novel Award in 1987, is centred around Lewis and his wife, and their struggle following the devastating loss of their young child.

The drama is the first to be produced by Cumberbatch's production company SunnyMarch TV and is directed by British director Julian Farino, whose previous television credits include the first few instalments of hit HBO show Entourage.

Students nicked in prostitution sting

THREE students were arrested during a police undercover PROSTITUTION sting.

Acacia Friedman, 23, Maury Noun, 21, and Samara Charlotin, 19, were nicked after an undercover detective arranged to pay for sex with two of the university students.

The officer negotiated a fee of $5,000 with Noun in exchange for a bonk with Friedman and Charlotin at a hotel in Coral Gables, Florida.

Noun was charged with deriving support from prostitution, aiding prostitution and directing another to prostitution.

Friedman and Charlotin were charged with engaging in prostitution.

Charlotin was told by Judge Mindy Glazer to quit the profession if she wants to 'live to see age 20'.

The 23-year-old topless model said she enjoys a kinky bonk in the bathroom any time of day.

And the 34DD lovely reckons the deeper her fella gets, the better!

Outdoors

Ann Denise, from Manchester, also likes getting frisky al-fresco style and wants a bloke to take her into the great outdoors.

She said: “I love doggy style sex – especially in the shower.

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

“I get turned on by the feeling of warm water slowly dripping down my boobs and back as I’m being taken from behind.

“I make the guy gently pull my hair and he can put his leg up onto the side of the bath so it goes really deep.

“It makes me feel like a proper porn star!

“I love the thrill of doing it in public, too. I’d love have sex outside properly though – maybe in a field or on a quiet beach.”

Sex on first date? Most fellas just can't wait!

By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

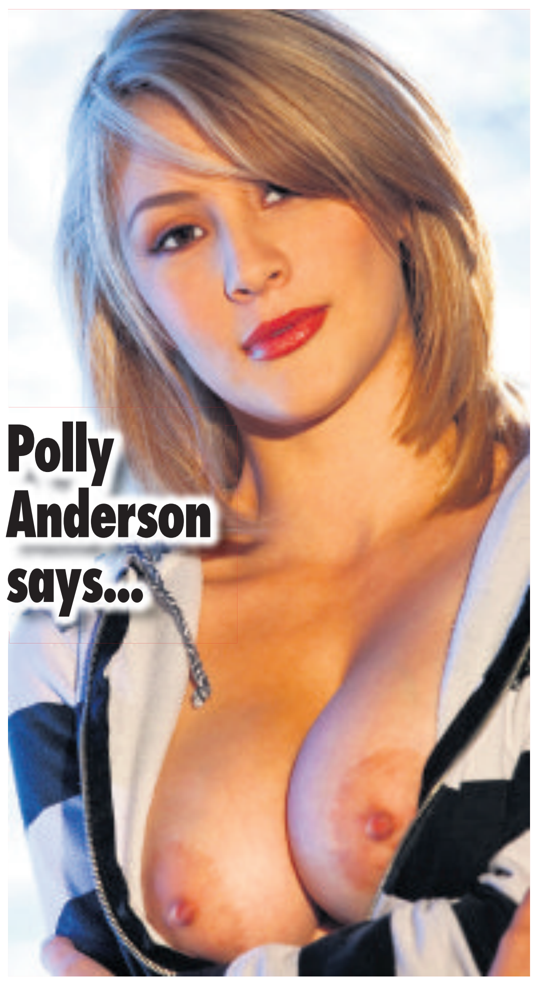
BLOKES are FOUR TIMES as likely as women to want a SHAG on their first date, research reveals.

And although women aren't as eager to jump into bed at the first opportunity, seven per cent of them would happily end their night with a bang, according to a new survey.

YouGov Omnibus studied 39,000 Brits and discovered that one in five adults are happy to enjoy a cheeky quickie at the end of their first date.

The survey asked people: "When dating someone new that you liked, how many dates would you want to wait before having sex with them?"

One in eight said they follow the 'three date rule', with another 15 per cent wanting a more romantic situation.



Polly Anderson says...

> I DON'T like waiting around. I need to know if there's a connection in the bedroom, so I nearly always shag on the first date.

Jiggy

Those claimed they were more likely to wait until they have fallen in love or even married before getting jiggy between the sheets.

The study also highlighted the differences between genders and how differently age groups view sex.

Men aged 35 to 44 topped the horny charts with 35 per cent of them wanting to get their end away on the first date.

Women between 18 and 24 are more likely to put out on a first date, with 14 per cent admitting they'd be up for some fun.

Older women saw sex as a part of a loving relationship, with a third of women over 55 declaring they wouldn't shag a new man until they were in love.

Relationship expert Hillie Marshall, author of The Good Dating Guide, said: "In my experience, the gap between the sexes is narrowing.

Intimate

"Men have always been happy to jump in to bed with any woman who shows interest and see it as a conquest, while women were often more reserved.

"Now women are much more likely to put out at an earlier stage.

"People used to work up to a kiss, get a little more intimate and then have sex.

"It's best to get to know your partner before giving everything away. Wait and see if you have a good friendship and whether the other person is worth waiting around for."

We asked three Sport stunnas whether they prefer to wait for sex with a new man...

Mandy Smith says...

> I always sleep with a man pretty quickly. I need to know whether he can satisfy me and fulfil my needs. If he's not good in the bedroom, I won't be interested.

Rita Clarkson says...

> The thrill of the chase turns me on, I love teasing a man and building him up for sex. The more dates we go on, the better the sex is when I finally let him in.

Sexperts' top tips for shag heaven!

Jess Angel
Age 20, 34b-24-35 from Oldham

By BECCA STUBBS
becca@sundaysport.co.uk

FELLAS, it's your lucky day – as sex experts have revealed the FIVE top tips to have the best SHAG of your life.

Sex and relationship gurus reckon the surefire way to get you both hot and horny is to forget what you look like and tell each other exactly what you want.

They also said that although people might have a 'signature move' up their sleeve, it actually doesn't guarantee mindblowing sex every time – but their tips could do.

One expert told people to forget what they look like naked and it'll lead to a better bonking session.

Touch

Virgie Tovar, creator of Babecamp, reckons people need to make their partner feel comfortable and sexy.

She said: "When we're tuned-in to pleasure, both our own and our partner's, we are better equipped to be amazing lovers.

"Do whatever you have to do make your partner and yourself feel no shame."

Her top tips to making your partner comfortable is to say how much you want them and touch every part of their body, especially the bits they feel self-conscious about.

Talking is also the key to unlocking multiple orgasms – telling your love partner exactly what you enjoy leads to a great and satisfying romp.

However, the sex experts also advise you to communicate when you don't like something or aren't really getting much from it.

Pleasure

Finally, showing empathy is their "sexual communication superpower" and studies show that displaying empathy can lead to pleasure between the sheets.

Midweek Sport stunna Jess Angel agrees and says communication is everything in the bedroom.

She said: "How can I expect my man to know what I like if I don't tell him, and how do I know if he's enjoying himself if he doesn't let me know?

"It's so much better when you know what each other's kinks are, it makes it all so much more enjoyable, and being able to talk about your fantasies can lead to more raunchy sessions.

"Nothing gets me more turned on than being touched all over and a man enjoying every bit of my body.

"If he asks me what I like while he's touching and kissing me everywhere, I know the sex will be amazing!"

MY SEX FANTASY WITH ...SOPHIE STARR

‘If she was pretty and had a nice bum, I definitely would!’

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

SEX-BOMB Sophie Starr has confessed she loves big butts...especially on other WOMEN.

The stunning 32C babe says she can’t get enough lesbo porn and lusts after blondes with big boobs and round bums.

The 24-year-old, from Mersea Island, Essex, is also gagging for a threesome with a guy and a girl pal.

She told the Midweek Sport: “I’m all for a bit of lesbian porn. It’s so horny! I’ve only had a drunken snog with a girl on a night out, but if the chance to go further ever presented itself…

“I definitely have a sexual fantasy about girl-on-girl action! It sounds like a cliché but it’s something I would seriously like to try.

“I prefer a big, round bum over big boobs. And I love blondes.

“If I had a boyfriend who wanted a threesome with another girl, and we knew someone who I thought was pretty with a nice arse, I definitely would!”

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Sam,

I STARTED a windowcleaning round on a new estate a couple of months ago and already there's a few housewives who have lured me inside to squirt my water in them!

One of them, a curvy 40-something brunette, is a bit of a nympho and loves me giving it to her doggy-style before she finishes me off with an expert blowjob.

Another – in her early fifties but still in good nick with huge tits – loves to go on top and rides me like crazy with her boobs bouncing wildly in front of me until I spurt my man juice up her.

There's a couple more who are also up for a good shagging and I reckon I spend more time keeping these randy women satisfied than I do cleaning their windows.

But I've started to notice that I'm earning less and less money because I can't complete my round. What should I do?

CE, Newcastle

Sam says…

IT'S your choice. Clean up on the dirty housewives or stick to cleaning windows.

Dear Sam,

MY girlfriend has always been sexually adventurous but recently she has taken things even further by developing a fetish for having dangerous sex… in supermarket toilets!

It started a few months ago when we sneaked into the ladies' loo at Asda and had a quick bonk in one of the cabins, with me sat on the toilet seat and her riding fast and hard on top of me.

I must admit it was pretty thrilling, knowing that someone could walk in any time and hear what was going on.

Since then, we've done it numerous times in other supermarket toilets and we've nearly been caught on the job a few times.

Now the novelty is wearing off for me, but my girlfriend doesn't want it to stop because she says our 'shopping trips' give her the best orgasms she's ever had.

What should I do?

DB, Leicester

Sam says…

IT'S time to flush this bizarre practice down the pan.

Fixing blonde's car put me on road to great sex

Dear Sam,

I GOT divorced about a year ago and decided to start up my own mobile mechanic business.

I haven't had much luck with the ladies but a couple of weeks ago I got a call from a woman saying her car wouldn't start in her driveway.

When I got to her house I was met by a gorgeous blonde in her mid-thirties wearing a short skirt and a low-cut top that showed off her ample boobs.

It only took me a few minutes to sort out her car and she invited me in for a brew – or at least that's what I thought!

I'd barely got through the door before she was all over me, kissing me hard and rubbing my quickly hardening gear stick.

I whipped her clothes off and bent her over the sofa before ramming her doggy-style until we had a mind-blowing climax.

Now she calls me to 'fix her car' at least once a week. How lucky am I?

PL, Sunderland

Sam says…

THERE looks to be plenty of mileage in this business arrangement.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

We were so turned on by horny sex tape

Dear Sam,

I'VE been with my girl for six months and we enjoy great sex.

We are into a bit of light bondage and also enjoy browsing through lots of naughty websites.

Then a couple of months ago she came home with a DVD cam she had borrowed from one of her colleagues at work – and I knew straight away what she had in mind.

Sauciest

I was totally turned on by the idea and we quickly agreed to play our favourite sex game together, in front of the camera.

The 'script' goes along the lines of me pretending to be a workman who finds a beautiful but frustrated housewife crying out for a good screwing.

We set up the camera in the kitchen and she put on her sauciest nightie.

Then I rang the front door bell and she let me in.

I was pretending to fix the tumble dryer in the kitchen as she bent over, showing her bare arse.

Then she sank to her knees and released my hard cock before taking me in her mouth.

We were both so turned on she could sense I was about to climax, so she withdrew her lips just in time.

We were still horny, so we took the camera upstairs and shot another scene.

This time she got dressed in her favourite dominatrix outfit – some nice black leather gear.

She then tied me to the bed and took her time pleasuring me with her hands, tongue and a whip before easing herself down on me.

She orgasmed three or four times in quick succession before she rolled off me, gasping for breath.

Then we went downstairs again to watch ourselves in action on the big telly in the lounge.

And it was so horny that we had to have another rampant session right there and then before we finally collapsed in a heap, totally exhausted.

I've since found out that my girlfriend copied the sex tape onto her mobile phone and has been showing it to her girlie mates.

Well, I have to confess I didn't like her doing that at all and I feel a bit used and betrayed.

What do you think?

GM, Wilts

Sam says…

STOP moaning – most blokes would be really pleased to be shown off like that to their partner's pals. She clearly thinks you're a bit of a stud, or else she wouldn't have shown them in the first place.

Back of pub romp with boozed-up mum-in-law

Dear Sam,

BEFORE I met my wife I had a fling with her mum – who was the busty barmaid in my local pub.

Recently, I got pissed and ended up giving her one again.

She came on strong to me and, in my own defence, I'll say she was always a great screw.

It all began after I'd had a bit of a row with her daughter and I was drowning my sorrows in the boozer.

As the karaoke was winding up for the evening, the mother-in-law came over.

She'd obviously sunk a few herself during the evening and we went on a bit of a ride down memory lane, recalling the good times we'd had in bed together.

Then she started rubbing my cock and giving me a snog "just for old time's sake", she insisted.

Before I could stop her, she dragged me out the back of the pub into the yard and pulled up her skirt.

She fished out my stiff cock and went down on her knees before taking my full length in her mouth.

I'd forgotten how expert she was at giving blowjobs and I could feel my man juice welling up.

She stopped in the nick of time, pushed me back against the wall and guided me inside her, moaning with pleasure as I shafted her.

But after I'd shot my load, she suddenly turned nasty and said she ought to tell my wife about what I'd done.

Now I'm scared shitless that she really will let on to my missus and ruin our marriage.

What can I do?

DM, South Yorks

Sam says…

IF you think she really is serious, your only course of action is to confess to your wife first – and face the consequences.

AGONY QUICKIES

Dear Sam,

I'VE never got on with my older brother and our relationship hit a new low when I caught him screwing my wife in my own home.

She begged me for forgiveness, but I can't get that image of the two of them naked and moaning with pleasure out of my head.

Should I leave her?

SH, Goole

Sam says…

IF you can't forgive, can you forget? Do what you believe is best for you.

Dear Sam,

MY neighbour's wife is blonde, mid-forties, a real looker with big knockers and a seductive smile.

Recently, she made it clear to me that her door is always open if I want to come in for nookie.

I'm married with two teenage kids, but I have to admit I'm tempted to take up her offer.

Any advice?

RH, Manchester

Sam says…

DON'T do it.

NATALIA PHILLIPS

CHEF Kevin Bennett would be happy to serve up his meat 'n' two veg to gorgeous glamour girl Natalia Phillips.

Kevin, 44, cooks up a storm in his local pub kitchen in Aberystwyth and he'd give himself to 29-year-old Surrey stunna on a plate.

He said: "Those 32B perky boobs get me going every time.

"If she ever comes to Aberystwyth I'd definitely give her a taste of my sausage!

"I'd serve up sausage for starter, meat and two veg for her main and then she can sample some cream for dessert – she'd have the best meal of her life!"

AMELIA

LIFEGUARD Jamie Walker begged us for a picture of his favourite topless babe, Amelia.

The 28-year-old works at his local pool in Dorset during the winter but jets off to America's beaches to keep watch in the summer.

Although he says there's tons of Yank beauties to keep his eye on, it's Norwich's 23-year-old Amelia and her 32C boobs he can't get out of his head.

Jamie said: "I love meeting women and, as a lifeguard, that happens a lot.

"I'd love to give Amelia the kiss of life – she's stunning."

PAULEENA

PERSONAL trainer Charlie Briggs would love to work up a sweat with Pauleena and her gigantic bosoms.

The 30-year-old gym bunny, from Rotherham, South Yorks, would even give Brazilian-born beauty Pauleena free training sessions.

And he'd be more than happy to offer his support to her humongous 43G sweater-stretchers while she's enjoying a good workout.

He said: "I'm a boob man and I've never seen a bigger pair than Pauleena's.

"I'd love to hold those melons, although they'd be more than a handful!"

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper! Email request@sundaysport.co.uk

SPEARMINT RHINO BABE OF THE WEEK

Hollie
STAFFORD

By BECCA STUBBS becca@sundaysport.co.uk

HOTTIE Hollie Stafford loves being in the hands of an alpha male who will take control of her in the bedroom.

The 24-year-old stunna also enjoys spending quality time with her perfect man before things get hot and heavy between the sheets.

Tattooed vixen Hollie reckons her lovely bum is one of her best features – and she shows it off at every opportunity.

Naughty

The brunette beauty, from Canterbury, Kent, boasts all-natural 32DD boobs and loves showing plenty of cleavage to make the most of her impressive curves.

She said: "My biggest turn-on is when a man is an alpha male and takes full control. I like a man to know exactly what he wants, especially when it comes to sex positions!

"I don't really have a perfect date, simply spending time with the person I am interested in is good enough for me."

And Hollie confessed: "My naughty secret is that I love my bum and enjoy it when men touch it during sex – it really turns me on!"

Spearmint Rhino has a number of gentlemen's clubs around the world which boast the most beautiful dancers.

But if you can't make it to one of the venues, you can find Spearmint Rhino girls at boxing and Mixed Martial Arts (MMA) fights around the country, or at the British Superbike Rounds.

GRAND NATIONAL MEETING STARTS TOMORROW

McCoy fancies More of winning feeling

20-TIME CHAMP SAYS JP HAS MASSIVE NATIONAL CHANCE

NATIONAL HERO: McCoy on Don't Push It

DON'T miss Friday's Weekend Sport – we'll have the final runners and riders for the Grand National. Plus all the tips and advice you need to win on the big race!

SIR AP McCoy say he would be on MORE OF THAT in this year's Grand National given the choice.

The 20-times champion jockey won the great race one — on board Don't Push It in 2010.

And he thinks his old boss JP McManus has two likely lads in More Of That and Cause Of Causes this year.

By MIKE FRANCIS

William Hill brand ambassador McCoy said: "More Of That ran in the Gold Cup and at some point he will come back to life.

"If I had a ride I'd settle for Cause Of Causes or More Of That – I would like to ride both of them, but More Of That has a bit of class to set him apart."

And another horse that Sir AP believes has a touch of class is Saphir Du Rheu trained by Paul Nicholls, who can land the trainer's championship with a Grand National win.

He said: "Saphir Du Rheu is quite well handicapped on his Gold Cup run and he has a load of class.

"For a jockey the Grand National can be a career-changing race if you are lucky enough to win it.

"My greatest Grand National moment for certain was winning the race on Don't Push It.

"I was very lucky, because I won the Grand National I went on to win the Sports Personality of the year and if I hadn't won the National I wouldn't have won that.

"It is the most famous horserace in the world with an audience of 600 million watching it around the planet.

"That makes it very special indeed, but it's a race you need a bit of luck in and it took me 15 attempts to win it.

"Look at last year's winner Rule The World at 33/1 and before that Auroras Encore at 66/1 and Mon Mome at 100/1.

"They are all in the last eight years – with a couple more at 25s and 33s in the last five years.

"It's the 40th anniversary of Red Rum's third win in the race, but I am not sure a horse will ever do what Red Rum did.

"It will be very hard to find another triple winner like him."

TOUGH CALL: Geraghty

Geraghty to leave his choice until last minute

BARRY Geraghty is struggling to decide which horse to ride in Saturday's Grand National.

The Irishman has the pick of JP McManus's More Of That and Cause Of Causes.

Both are near the head of the betting and have live chances at Aintree.

Geraghty was forced to miss the Cheltenham Festival with injury so is even more determined to make the most of the National.

He said: "I'm none the wiser at the minute. I've sat on both horses.

"I rode Cause Of Causes work last week and he felt well. I schooled More Of That on Friday and that went well, too. Both are in good shape.

"You can make a very good case for both horses, so I'm a little bit undecided at the minute.

"More Of That was running well at Leopardstown when he came down at the last.

"You have to think he disappointed a little in the Gold Cup, but you'd like to think he's better than that.

"Cause Of Causes obviously won the cross-country race in Cheltenham and that has been a good indicator over the years, but off his handicap mark it could be hard for him.

"It's a tricky one. It's not a straightforward one.

Choose

"I'll make my decision on Thursday or shortly before. I can't imagine it being too long before Thursday."

Aidan Coleman is likely to be on the one Geraghty doesn't choose, while there could be four horses in the McManus colours with Pendra and Regal Encore in the top 40.

"Aidan Coleman will ride one and possibly Jamie Codd," said racing manager Frank Berry.

"If the ground stays like it is, Regal Encore will probably run as well.

"At the minute we could have four runners."

Definitly Red is likely to go off favourite and trainer Brian Ellison is happy with his hopeful.

He said: "He's going there in great form, and he's schooled well.

"Last year I would have agreed that he might not stay the trip, but this year he's stronger and better.

"When he won the Grimthorpe Chase at Doncaster, he went on four out and he wasn't stopping.

"Good ground will help him."

THE WINNING POST

Toby sure of a win

By BEN MORGAN

DAN Skelton was quietly confident about TOBY LERONE (NAP) going into last weekend when he was due to run at Ascot.

Unfortunately he was pulled out in the morning so didn't run and now takes up an engagement at Wincanton where he looks to have a sporting chance.

His main rival Mon Parrain has a few questions to answer and it may be a matter of who retains the most ability given that both are now past their best.

Bounce

I have a slight inkling that it will be Skelton's charge that comes out on top especially if he can dictate out in front and as he looks the less fancied of the two I hope he will be available at a better price.

GULSHANIGANS has been knocking on the door for a while now, as he has been touched off at Ludlow two times on the bounce and looks due a change of fortune.

He is a brute of a horse who you would assume would be sent novice chasing next year.

But I think connections believe he has more than enough ability to win an event like this over the smaller obstacles first.

This looks a weaker race than the past two races he has ran in so a repeat of previous form would see him go close.

Harry Fry is no stranger to having a bumper winner, especially here at Wincanton, which is a positive sign for backers of SHALL WE GO NOW.

The Dorset based trainer has picked up a few horses for the Rooneys just recently and the ones we have seen so far look decent animals and there is nothing to suggest this one wouldn't be of the same standard.

He is by Midnight Legend so is beautifully bred and the main man, Noel Fehily, is in the plate which can only be seen as a major plus point.

I suggest getting on this one early as he may not be much of a price come the off.

Crucial

Kerry Lee sends DESTINED TO SHINE all the way to Carlisle in the hope of encountering softer conditions.

He put his debut run well behind him when he won as he liked at Towcester on similar ground and although he has to shoulder a bit of weight, his experience may prove crucial.

THE MASTERS KICKS OFF THE GOLF SEASON

Tommy aims for glory on Masters debut

NEW MASTER: Fleetwood

FLEETWOOD'S DESPERATE TO FOLLOW IN FUZZY FOOTSTEPS

By NICK JACKLIN

TOMMY Fleetwood is looking forward to playing in the Masters — after years watching from behind the ropes.

The 26-year-old from Southport has experience of being a fan at Augusta and is hoping for big things on his debut as a player.

He has shot up from 188 in the world to a career-high of 32 that got him into the season's first Major. Now he's dreaming of becoming the first debutant to win the Masters since Fuzzy Zoeller in 1979.

Fleetwood said: "I came to watch in 2014. I came with the intention of being there the following year and finished 51st in the world that year, so I just missed out.

"Whoever you speak to says everything takes a little bit of getting used to. Augusta, it's in everybody's mind and everybody's dreams so it's a little bit surreal when you first go.

"I thought I just want to see what it's like and when I do come, I might not be as awestruck.

"But it doesn't quite work like that — when you get to the golf course, it's still the same feelings.

"I dropped a long way at one point last year and in all honesty, one of the greatest accomplishments I've had in my career was qualifying for the Masters this year. It wasn't in our thoughts at all so it's all come very quickly."

Fleetwood is trying every trick in the book to get an edge before tomorrow's big tee-off.

He added: "I put my name down with Fuzzy Zoeller in the par three because I know he's the last player to win the Masters on debut, so I thought maybe that might give me some vibes.

"I'm not going to sit here and say I expect to win, but you never know. You've just got to get your head down. It's me against the course and it's just me plugging on in my career.

"A lot of shots I feel comfortable with. I've not got any experience of missing it in certain spots or knowing what is a horrendous chip shot or knowing that you can't go there.

"That's what a first-timer is missing, but I'll try my hardest to get as much information as I can."

RARING TO GO: Ball

Fit Ball's bouncing for new campaign

CRICKET

JAKE Ball is keen to make an impact on Test cricket this summer.

He wants to lose his tag as a one-day specialist for the Three Lions.

The Notts seamer said: "If you'd asked me at the start of last season, I'd have said my way in would have been one-day cricket.

"I felt that was a game I played quite a lot of and understood a lot better.

"But as the season grew on I got a lot more confident in my red-ball stuff — and to be involved with England in all formats, it's amazing."

Ball missed last month's one-dayers against the West Indies with a niggling injury.

But now the paceman is back and firing on all cylinders in time for the new season.

He added: "I'm just looking to kick on again, really excited to start the season and see what this one has in store for me.

"I think I was ready for it, because I'd been bowling so well, my confidence was really high — probably the most confident I've been in my bowling since I started.

Goal

"It definitely came at a good time for me, and the games I played I've done the job that was asked of me — and hope I put performances in that warrant getting selection this summer as well."

With the Ashes on the horizon, Ball knows this is a pivotal summer in his career.

At 25 he realises that it's time to kick on with his career, especially in the red-ball game.

He added: "I just want it to keep going.

"My goal for the winter was to keep my ODI place for the Champions Trophy, and then the next goal after that is obviously to try to secure my place on the plane for the Ashes.

"That is something you dream about."

Ball is desperate to take on the Aussies having been inspired by Notts team-mate Stuart Broad.

He added: "I remember watching the 2005 Ashes with my brother.

"It's the best Test series you could play in.

"It was something special to watch.

"If I get the chance to go out to Australia and do anything close to what Stu did, that would be an incredible feeling."

TOON ON THEIR WAY BACK TO TOP TABLE

STEERING TOON UP: Rafa Benitez

MIDWEEK TREBLE

FIRST up, get on NEWCASTLE at 7/15. I can't see anything other than an impressive home win for The Toon Army.

Rafa's men are heading back to the big time and tonight's match against Burton should see them move one step closer to realising that dream. Burton are one of the poorest sides in the division and I am expecting there to be plenty of goals.

If the 7/15 does not float your boat, look at Newcastle to score three or more goals at 2/1.

The second selection comes in the Premier League and it is Spurs to beat Swansea away at 8/11.

Don't believe all this rubbish that the title race is back on, but what it does do is give Spurs just a glimmer of hope. They must win every single match and hope that Chelsea slip up, it should focus their mind and makes them dangerous.

Chelsea play Man City tonight and if City can somehow manage to beat Chelsea, the gap could be just four points. Spurs have played Chelsea twice and now must rely on others to stop them, but first and foremost they must win their games.

Pochettino's men will surely beat The Swans tonight and at the worst keep Chelsea honest.

Leg three is a banker, get on Liverpool to sink Bournemouth at 2/5.

The Reds are bang on course to qualify for the Champions League and that will be an exciting platform for Klopp to build on next season.

On their day Liverpool can beat anyone, they have been guilty at times of taking their foot off the accelerator against some of the smaller teams.

I don't see that happening here, Liverpool will have confidence flowing through their veins.

It's not been so often over the last 20 years Liverpool have finished above Man United.

The red half of Merseyside are hoping they will once again this season. I'm a huge admirer of the Brazilian magician Coutinho, he is one hell of a player.

If the 2/5 is not getting you excited, look at the 13/8 for Coutinho to score and Liverpool to win.

CHASING CHELSEA: Pochettino's Spurs

ARSENAL v WEST HAM

★ THE longer Arsene Wenger leaves it before making an announcement on his future, the worse it is going to get at Arsenal.

The 67-year-old Frenchman is now in his 21st year at the club, but it would take a brave punter to bet on him being at the helm next year.

While the titles may have dried up, he was always Mr Dependable when it came to qualification for the Champions League and the accountants always had a smile on their face.

We are now in April, Arsenal are out of the title race, they've been dumped out of the Champions League and, most damning of all, they look likely to miss out on the top-four.

There is also growing concern about the happiness of star players Sanchez and Ozil. Life is not good at the moment for The Gunners and it may prove wise to look for alternatives to an Arsenal win.

West Ham are not the force of last season, but they can be plucky and tough to beat. It would still be a shock to see them rock up to Emirates and escape with all three points.

I think the most likely outcome is a draw, I'm jumping on this being a stalemate at 9/2. Look at the 17/1 on offer for it to finish 2-2.

UNWANTED RECORD

★ FOOTBALL is a confidence sport, one man who's confidence levels must be running on empty is Rudy Gestede.

He has now gone an incredible 39 games without a win in the top flight. The frontman who plays for relegation threatened Middlesbrough, just can't buy a win at the moment.

His last win came on the opening day of the 2015/16 season. Since his arrival at Boro in January, his new team have not won a league match. Tonight Boro travel to Hull.

If you fancy the run to end tonight you can get 3/1 on away Boro win. Maybe Gestede will fire?

For him to score and Boro to win you can get a whopping 11/2.

LOOKING UP: Wagner

Stunned Terriers boss on cloud 9

Huddersfield v Norwich

Wednesday, 7.45, on Sky Sports 1

HUDDERSFIELD boss David Wagner admits he's surprised to be so close to winning promotion.

The German came into the season completely in the dark about the potential of his players.

He was concerned that brining several new players in would mean this would be a season of settling down rather than going for glory.

The Terriers have a mountain to climb to win automatic promotion now but are alive and kicking in the play-offs.

And that's more than Wagner was hoping for when the season kicked off in August.

He said: "At the start of the year, I didn't have a realistic target in my head because I had no idea how everybody would come together.

"How quickly the foreign players would settle in, how quickly the younger players would settle in and how the loan players would settle in.

"Obviously everything worked out but at the time you always have this feeling of being unsure."

Realistic

Despite sitting in third spot, Wagner still thinks his squad is punching way above its weight.

He added: "We have spoken a lot about what is possible and realistic and I have always said it isn't realistic to be top six.

"To be fighting the likes of Norwich City, Aston Villa, Derby, Fulham, Reading, Sheffield Wednesday and Leeds – not to mention Newcastle United and Brighton.

"We are Huddersfield Town and if I said before the season we would be challenging them then you would send me off to the hospital.

"But it is now a realistic achievement which we want to achieve and are working to do so."

And Wagner thinks Norwich are still in the play-off hunt.

He added: "They are seven points behind with seven games to go – so everything is possible.

"There are 21 teams who would love to be in our position — this is what we have to realise.

"Norwich will be a very tough test and we need everyone to be switched on and at their best."

HAMMER HOPE: Andy Carroll is looking for goal number 51

Big at both ends tonight

MIDWEEK MADNESS IN PREMIER

BIG games at both ends of the Premier League table this evening including the visit of Manchester City to Stamford Bridge.

City return to the capital 72 hours after twice throwing away a lead at the Emirates and will surely have to defend better at the Bridge than they did against Arsenal if they are to come away with the points.

Chelsea begin the night seven points clear at the top of the table and a win for City would still leave them eight points adrift of the Blues.

It will be interesting to see if Pep starts with Raheem Sterling having substituted the England international for tactical reasons at half-time. City are 85/40 to take three points and inflict back-to-back home PL defeats on Chelsea for the first time since November 2011.

Chelsea won the reverse fixture at the Etihad earlier in the campaign and the Blues are 11/8 to do the double over City – note no single opponent has ever done the domestic league double over a side managed by Guardiola.

Spurs begin the night 8/13 in our market without Chelsea and they cannot afford to slip up at the Liberty Stadium against a Swansea side who have never beaten the north London outfit in 11 previous PL games.

Spurs would be top of the table if the league began on January 1 but they imploded towards the end of the season last year. They are 7/10 to take all three points with the draw 3s and Swansea 22/5.

Arsenal have lost just one of their last 17 PL games against West Ham.

The Hammers went into the midweek fixtures six points above relegation but if Hull take maximum points from the visit of Boro, they might be within three points of the Irons.

West Ham entertain Swansea at the London Stadium at the weekend and that could be a very tense occasion unless Slaven Bilic's side pick up something this evening. Andy Carroll has scored five PL goals against the Gunners and the striker, who picked up his 50th PL goal at the KCOM midweek, is 9/1 to open the scoring and 2/1 to find the back of the net.

★ The Masters is the only Major played at the same course and I am sure for many golf fans it is the best tournament of the year.

Having backed Justin Thomas and Thomas Pieters at the beginning of the year, I have probably picked a couple of value losers and I am now hoping this is Rory McIlroy's time.

He will join a small band of golfers to have won all four Majors if he wins this week and says it does pray on his mind.

McIlroy will join Gene Sarazan, Ben Hogan, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Tiger Woods as the winner of the career Grand Slam and at 15/2 with BetVictor he gets my vote.

Dustin Johnson is the current world number 1 and has won his last three tournaments – 13/2 also looks a very fair price and if the big two avoid bad luck with the draw I can't see past them.

The recommendation must be Rory for the career Grand Slam at 15/2 with a saver on Johnson at 13/2.

★ Rose Dobbin has her string in good form and whilst we won't be seeing any repetition of the great sub-editors dream headline "Dobbin wins the National" this week (husband Tony rode Lord Gyllene to victory in 1997) the hope is that DOKTOR GLAZ (2.30 Carlisle) can land the novice chase.

The selection has the scope to jump a fence and won a hurdle at Wetherby last time from a 3lb higher mark.

Connections appear to have found a good opportunity for the seven-year-old who is owned in partnership by the trainer's parents.

Toon take nothing for granted in Prem race

Newcastle v Burton

Wednesday, 7.45pm kick-off

RAFA Benitez is warning his Toon players not to think promotion is already in the bag.

Newcastle welcome struggling Burton to St James's Park with a big points cushion in their quest for the Premier League.

But Benitez is taking nothing for granted against the Brewers.

He said: "For Burton, it is their biggest game of the season.

"To make it to the Premier League, we still have to win games and pick up points.

"We are not looking down to the gap from Huddersfield and thinking it's 10 points, we have made it.

"There is still a long way to go."

Newcastle will be without Ciaran Clark and DeAndre Yedlin for the Burton clash.

But they are the only two significant absentees for the Toon Army.

Burton captain John Mousinho says his team-mates might be second best in quality compared to Newcastle — but there are no harder runners in the entire Championship.

Fittest

Albion showed that with their 96th-minute winner against Huddersfield at the weekend that boosted their chances of survival.

Mousinho said: "We've got some fantastically fit lads.

"I do look at our midfield and our forwards sometimes and think, 'wow, to run for that amount of time is incredible'.

"It's one of those things where when you're the richest team in the league, I think you've got to be the fittest team in the league, and when you're the poorest team, you've got to be the fittest as well.

"We are one of the poorest this season, if not the poorest, so what can we do?

"We might not have the ability to go out and sign players on £80,000 a week, but you can be fit, that doesn't cost anything — it just costs hard work and dedication.

"Hopefully we've shown that. We've got some lads in there that can really run and do a job.

"It's one of our biggest strengths."

WENGER UP FOUR IT

But it still doesn't matter if we come fifth says Arsene

ARSENE Wenger claims finishing outside the top four would NOT spell the end of his time at the Emirates.

The 67-year-old is still making up his mind on whether he stays as Arsenal boss beyond the end of this season.

With protests against the man who took over 1996 growing, he insists that they are making no difference to his mindset. The Gunners have never finished outside the top four under the Frenchman — but that run looks to be coming to an end.

But Wenger says he hasn't been told he must qualify for the Champions League.

The Frenchman said: "I tell myself to finish as high as possible.

"Finishing in the top four is a good challenge but I think it's perfectly possible.

"Certainly for 20 years I have done it and it looked always like it's nothing.

"Suddenly it becomes important, so I am quite pleased that people realise that it's not as easy as it looks.

"If you listen to Pep Guardiola, he said the other day that to achieve the top four in England is a trophy because it's so difficult.

Arsenal v West Ham United

Wednesday, 7.45pm kick-off

"Of course we have a difficult task in front of us, but I am happy as well that people realise suddenly that it's not as easy as it looked always."

Wenger points to his amazing record of finishing in the top four and thinks his experience will count in the final weeks of the season.

He added: "The experience will play a part, of course, but I think it is just about sticking together and continuing to fight.

Stand

"If we show the same spirit we showed against City, we will win football games.

"We have played 20 games unbeaten this season, and I think it's a good opportunity to remind people we are not fighting to not go down — we are fighting to have a positive end to the season.

"That's why you want the fans to stand behind the team and that the debate at the moment is about that.

"Let's finish as strong as we can and show that we have some resilience, some quality and some mental spirit that we have shown against City."

The Gunners take on West Ham tonight with the visitors boosted by the return of Michail Antonio.

Aaron Cresswell is out of the next two games with a thigh injury but Diafra Sakho could be on the bench for the first time since picking up a back injury in November.

TEARING HIS HAIR OUT: Wenger knows he's in big trouble

STAY FOCUSED: Zaha

Keep your mind on the game Wilfried

Southampton v C Palace

Wednesday, 7.45pm kick-off

PALACE boss Sam Allardyce has told Wilfried Zaha to forget about leaving the club.

Big Sam is worried that the 24-year-old is having his head turned by stories linking him with a big-money summer move.

He has been in cracking form as the former England boss has moved the Eagles away from the relegation zone.

He hit the target in the weekend win over Chelsea and his gaffer is hoping for more of the same against Southampton tonight.

Big Sam said: "Hopefully Wilf is not listening to all that the papers are saying, good or bad.

"And that it doesn't distract him from the performances he is giving.

"You can get distracted by good publicity as well as bad, and he has to consistently perform to the level he is at and that gives him a greater value."

Allardyce and chairman Steve Parish are doing all they can to keep Zaha, with a new contract on the table.

Talks

Big Sam added: "Steve has chosen maybe to offer a new deal.

"Whether Wilf accepts that, maybe on the basis that he likes this club and what the club's done for him, only time will tell.

"So come the end of the season, make sure we are in the Premier League and those talks can take place, but until then shut up about it.

"He's maturing as a person and that maturity is producing consistent performances.

"I don't want him to get distracted from the focus, which is getting better and keeping us in the Premier League.

"If there is any real interest, that interest will be portrayed to Steve.

"At the moment it's all about creating speculation.

"You don't want it to affect the player's focus. I've seen it at some clubs when a player thinks they are moving and switches off.

"There's a lot of talk about him — I just hope it doesn't distract him."

Palace are without defenders James Tomkins and Scott Dann for their trip to the south coast.

SILVA LINING LIFTS HULL CLOUD

HULL boss Marco Silva says his players must believe they can save their Premier League lives.

The Tigers have a perfect chance to take a step toward survival by beating fellow strugglers Middlesbrough at the KCOM Stadium tonight.

Since the Portugeezer took over from Mike Phelan, results have improved for Hull.

They have drawn two and won four of their past six home games and that's pulled them up to third from bottom after looking doomed.

With Boro four points behind, a win tonight could virtually condemn them to the drop.

And that would leave Hull in a shootout with Swansea for top-flight survival.

Hull v Middlesbrough

Wednesday, 7.45pm kick-off

Silva just wants the players to keep going. He said: "We need to win our games, this is the most important to us.

"Against Middlesbrough we have one game against an opponent in the battle and we have do 100% to win this game.

"We believe more it is normal. One team in the first 20 games picked up 13 points and now in the last 10 we do 14, that gives us confidence.

"But we didnt win nothing we need stay in the fight and keep our focus.

"It's really important for us to win against Boro. For us it's one more chance to take points

"It's imporntat to be out of the relegation zone at the end of the season.

"If you climb out of the zone before then it's a good signal."

And Silva is calling on the Hull home support to play their part in getting the team over the line.

He added: "Great numbers come to support us and that gives us great confidence.

"Of course the players are more comfortable at home."

Hull wing-back Ahmed Elmohamedy thinks it will be at the KCOM where the Tigers get the points they need for survival.

He said: "Our home form has been fantastic under Marco Silva and it will be key to us staying up.

"Everyone wants to be out of the bottom three and we all know the importance of tomorrow night's game.

"The lads have been terrific in the dressing room and that's important too.

"Hopefully we can keep our run going and stay in the Premier League.

"We go into the Boro game with great confidence."

Spurs strong to the finish blasts Mo Po

Swansea City v Tottenham Hotspur

Wednesday, 7.45pm kick-off

SPURS boss Mauricio Pochettino is determined not to go downhill at the end of this season.

That's what happened 12 months ago when Tottenham's title challenge tailed off in the final weeks of the campaign.

They blew finishing ahead of deadly rivals Arsenal with just two points from their final four games.

Pochettino wants a much stronger finish this time around.

He said: "We talk a lot about last season. Football is about mentality and energy in your mind, not only in your body.

"In football it is important to learn from the good and bad experiences.

"It is about mentality, never giving up and concentrating until the end.

DOUBTFUL: Llorente

Learn

"We did not have a problem of physical condition but we switched off in our mind after Chelsea on May 2.

"We lost our final two games against Southampton and Newcastle and lost second place to Arsenal.

"That was what happened last season so we need to learn.

"We can never give up and we must always fight, and concentrate to the end. Belief is the most important thing in football, along with faith and fight."

Swansea are desperate for three points to ease their relegation fears.

Boss Paul Clement is giving key striker Fernando Llorente as much time as possible to get over his ankle knock.

Clement is expecting a tough night against the Londoners. He has plenty of respect for Pochettino.

He said: "They have been challenging for the last couple of seasons and Mauricio Pochettino has done a really good job.

"He has a good, young squad who play exciting football.

"The Chelsea result at the weekend has probably given them belief that they can take the title race right to the end of the season.

"I think it will be an interesting game for us. They will want to win here and we need the points too."

OUCH: Aguero smashes into David Luiz at the Etihad

Conte targets 21 points to guarantee Premier League

By PAUL THOMAS

ANTONIO Conte believes Chelsea need seven more wins to take the title.

The Blues are seven points clear of Spurs with nine games left.

And the Chelsea boss is not expecting any slip-ups from the chasing pack.

The Bridge boys have their toughest remaining test of the season against Man City tonight.

Conte claims the title race is far from over.

He said: "It's normal with 27 points available that anything can happen in the league. We need 21 points to win the league mathematically. I think we are in a really good position.

"Nobody thought that Chelsea could fight this season for the title, but we stay there. We stay there and we want to keep this position.

"We know there are many teams that want to win the league, but it's normal this.

"I hope that who wins this league will deserve to win the league."

Chelsea suffered their first defeat since January 4 against Crystal Palace on Saturday — a result that was even more shocking given it was at home.

Conte is not too concerned about the slip against the Eagles.

He said: "It's an important part of the season, but we have to continue in the same way, to work, to work very, very hard.

Great

"To prepare in the right way every single game. To keep concentration.

"I'm pleased for my players. I'm always seeing great commitment of my players. It can happen. You can lose a game, but I think we didn't deserve to lose the game against Crystal Palace.

"Football is wonderful also for this type of result. Now we have another game."

David Luiz is still having treatment after being caught with a knee-high tackle by Sergio Aguero in the reverse fixture at the Etihad.

Chelsea won that 3-1 as the wheels really started to fall off City's Premier League challenge.

Aguero and Fernandinho were sent off in a bad tempered game that saw both clubs punished by the FA.

CHELSEA v MAN CITY

WEDNESDAY, 8PM

HEAVEN

RESPECT: Pep Guardiola and Antonio Conte

Conte believes that's all in the past and there won't be any recriminations, despite Luiz still being treated for that bad tackle.

Conte said: "I think now his knee is better than before and for sure he needs to have the treatment.

Desperate

"It's not important what happened at City. We must understand that when there is a game and above all if someone is losing the game, it can happen this type of situation. I have great respect for Aguero."

City boss Pep Guardiola will be desperate to get a draw at least — because he has NEVER been beaten twice in a season by the same team.

Conte is impressed by that record but clearly wants to break it.

He added: "It's good for him. Guardiola and me won't be thinking about that.

"Tomorrow is a game that we want to win and also Manchester City want to win.

"It's important to play a game. It won't be easy because Manchester City are a good team."

Guardiola acknowledges that his side have not performed well enough this season — and he'll be dipping into the transfer market this summer.

He said: "Every club must improve, wants to improve. Change is necessary.

"We will discuss at the end of the season.

Bigger

"The players will decide themselves with their performances on the pitch.

"There's a lot of things we can improve. We can make the goals bigger!

"There's a lot we can improve — always the players and the coach. Managers always look for things to improve.

"We want to look for the reason behind why we need to improve — not because of luck."

One of Guardiola's signings — Gabriel Jesus — has taken a step closer to playing again.

But he won't be back in match action for a few weeks yet.

Guardiola said: "Yesterday was his first day running on the pitch. I don't know exactly how many weeks it will be but he is at the end part of the process.

"Hopefully he can help us over the last games."

CAN YOU REMEMBER WHAT TO DO? Klopp talks to Sturridge

Desperate Dan move as Klopp battles injuries

Liverpool v Bournemouth

Wednesday, 8pm kick-off

JURGEN Klopp says he can't remember the last time he had anything like a fully fit squad to choose from.

The latest body blow of Sadio Mane potentially being out for the season means another player spending more time in the treatment room than on the pitch.

Adam Lallana and Jordan Henderson are also on the sidelines when Bournemouth come to Anfield.

It means Liverpool fans may have the shocking sight of Daniel Sturridge gracing the Anfield turf.

The glass-legged striker is in the squad for the first time in two months after coming through a couple of training sessions.

And Bournemouth could be tricky opponents after they came from behind with three late goals to win the reverse fixture at Dean Court.

Liverpool have had problems against other teams in the bottom half of the table, losing at home to Swansea and at Hull and Burnley.

Now Klopp's side have put themselves in pole position for a top four finish, the German doesn't want any more slip-ups.

He said: "As a manager I can't really remember the last time I had all the players available and the decisions to make were really difficult.

"There are a lot of different things but do we miss Sadio? Yes. Do we miss Adam? Yes. Do we miss Hendo? Yes. But they are not for this game because they are not here.

"We don't think what we miss, we only think what we can do to win the game.

"My job is to find solutions. This is a good situation — we have 59 points, we are in a nice position.

"Yes a few teams have played less games but they cannot win them all because they have to play each other.

"The whole season is to prepare the finish and this is it. Eight games to go. We expect results from ourselves.

"A few key players are not available but as long as we have 11 players to start and a few to bring on everything is fine.

"It is not about perfect football. We need to get results, and the first thing I will think about is how we can defend against Bournemouth not how can we create 27 chances?

"If we are strong and organised in defence then Bournemouth cannot get confidence in the game."

Klopp gutted as Mane ruled out for season

By JOHN ANTHONY

JURGEN Klopp is facing up to losing star striker Sadio Mane for the rest of the season.

The Senegal international limped out of the Merseyside derby with a knee injury.

And Klopp admits that it looks like Mane's season is over.

It's a blow as the Kop take on Bournemouth in their bid to finish in the vital Premier League top four.

Klopp said: "The knee is swollen and we have to wait for the final assessment. It is not 100 per cent clear.

"The only thing I can say for sure is that he will not be available for Bournemouth.

"It is not very positive when it is like this. I cannot say at this exact time so we have to wait and see.

"Everyone would miss Sadio. Southampton probably still miss him, Red Bull Salzburg miss him."

On the plus side for the Reds, Daniel Sturridge is back in training and could line up against the Cherries.

He hasn't even been on the bench for the past two months with a series of niggles.
